“Patsy was the best friend of my second cousin Lola Reed Jost. My first memory of Patsy is a picture of she and Lola sunbathing in the backyard at one of their homes in Dublin. They both liked to listen to Les Paul and Mary Ford's "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise." They were life-long friends, and she was one of the nicest women I ever knew, and I loved her laugh.

“Ms. Pat was the best neighbor we could of asked for. She loved us like her we were her own children. She welcomed us with loving arms everyday. The kids would go visit her and come home with the most amazing stories and full bellies of homemade food. She would go to the farmers market and bring us a wagon filled with goodies. Anytime she found out we were sick she would deliver us homemade chicken noodle soup. Christmas is nearing and every year she would get a bundt fruit cake and Ferrero rocher and sign it your secret santa. Looking at her house and knowing she is not a knock away anymore breaks my heart. Ms. Pat we sure miss you but know you are dancing with Jesus in heaven now.
